PART OF THE NZ SUMMER OF RIESLING MOVEMENT

WHAT'S IT ALL ABOUT?

The Summer of Riesling is a worldwide movement that encourages the consumption, discussion and enjoyment of Riesling.

From 12th January 2012 New Zealand will be launched head first into its very first Summer of Riesling. When it resurfaces we hope everyone will find themselves in a whirlpool of Riesling love. Winemaker dinners, tastings and wine lists evangelizing the virtues of this truly noble grape.

Helping us celebrate will be the Overlord of the Summer of Riesling, Paul Grieco, from Terroir Wine Bar in New York. This is where the Summer of Riesling began in 2008 when Paul decided that only Riesling would be offered by the glass as the white wine pour. And so began the revolution...

The NZ Summer of Riesling is sponsored by NZ's best Riesling producers and delivered to you by some of the most exciting establishments in the country.

Become a foot soldier, choose Riesling. Viva la Revolution!

IRF – INTERNATIONAL RIESLING FOUNDATION

The International Riesling Foundation Scale puts Rieslings into categories based on the taste of the wine, not the technical profile – dry, medium dry, medium sweet and sweet.

The biggest challenge when buying Riesling is knowing exactly what it is they enjoy and knowing what each wine is like from the label.

Glengarry has adopted the IRF scale and organised shelves into this and displayed a guide on our web site.
